BREAKING: “Liberty Vote”—Formerly Dominion Voting Systems—Tries to Silence Mike Lindell

MINNEAPOLIS, MN — [November 14, 2025] — MyPillow CEO and election security advocate Mike Lindell has issued a breaking statement revealing a shocking new development in his ongoing legal battle against Dominion Voting Systems—now rebranded as “Liberty Vote.”

Lindell announced today that Liberty Vote, formerly known as Dominion, lied to the American people by publicly stating they were dropping their crippling and unconstitutional case against Mike Lindell and MyPillow. In reality, Liberty Vote is insisting that Lindell agree to complete silence as the only condition to end their years-long campaign of legal intimidation.

“They said, we will settle for your silence,” Lindell stated. “They want me to walk away, say nothing, and do nothing about their horrible machines. I can’t do that. I won’t do that.”

Despite immense personal and financial sacrifice, Lindell remains resolute in his commitment to expose corruption and restore faith in America’s election systems.

“We have been fighting so hard to secure our election platforms. We are too close to give up, we have to get rid of these electronic voting machines and save our country,” Lindell stated.

Lindell’s refusal to “settle for silence” marks a new chapter in his stand for truth and transparency. He is calling on every freedom-loving American to stand with him as Dominion now known as Liberty Vote attempts to erase the truth and control the narrative around electronic voting machines.

“Dominion now called Liberty Vote has betrayed me—and our entire country,” Lindell said. “But I will never stop fighting to get rid of the of the electronic voting machines and secure our election platforms.”

Lindell is urging supporters nationwide to rally behind this critical moment in history and help him continue the legal fight that could determine the future of free and fair elections in the United States.
